

We Craft for children WHEN I GROW UP...

In support of

At Pritt, we recognise that crafting activities can enhance overall mental health and well-being, which is why Pritt have created the 'We Craft for Children' booklet, in partnership with Place2Be. We want to encourage positive well-being practices while making summer holidays fun and educational. The activities inspire children to think about who they want to be when they grow up, and to create everything they can imagine over the summer!
